Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ekstein.

Ekstein discloses a device comprising: a whistle a bag having a cover 943A) filler a plurality of compressible targets 9a nose and mouth) see col. 5 lines 62-63.

In regard to claim 4, as broadly claimed Ekstein teaches that it is known for a user to wear boxing gloves when punching a device such as Ekstein.

The examiner further notes that the specification and previous claims fail to provide an initial disclosure of a “means for actuating” this limitation is considered as new matter, although this feature has been addressed with the notation of boxing gloves. Applicant is required to provide support for this feature in the claims or specification as initially presented.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ekstein in view of Robin or Critelli or Neuberger.

Art Unit: 3764

In response to applicants arguments directed to claim 5, the examiner applies the additional prior art of Robin which discloses a hose (34) connected to a target to transfer pressure.

Although it is considered by the examiner, as standard practice in the art, to connect pneumatic targets to other elements of a punching device, by hoses, to be well known, the applicant has requested additional disclosure that this feature is notoriously well known in the art. Support for this limitation is supplied as follows.

Ekstein discloses the device of claim 5 absent the disclosure of a hose connecting a target to an indicator/whistle.

Rubin element 34, Critelli (55) and Neuberger (42) all disclose pneumatic communication within impact devices between other elements of the device.

Given the above teaching the examiner notes that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide a hose member between the nose member of Ekstein and the whistle of Ekstein as an obvious communication means between elements of a boxing device.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In claim 4, means for actuating is considered as new matter.
